

Critics tear about Trump admin over 'bales' of shredded Epstein documents

Social media reacted with fury at the news that unknown officials were shredding “bales” of paper connected to Jeffrey Epstein in the prison housing convicted sex-trafficker Jeffrey Epstein soon after his death.

Famed Epstein reporter Julie K. Brown reported that just six days after Jeffrey Epstein’s 2019 death at the Metropolitan Correctional Center (MCC) in New York, a Bureau of Prisons “After-Actions team” rounded up inmates to help shred “huge amounts of paperwork.”

According to the Miami Herald all the officials from the FBI, BOP and OIG in the building participated in the removal.

“They are shredding everything,” the inmate told one of the guards, adding that he was asked to give the officials, whom he did not recognize, a hand with the shredding.

“Make sure you get that box too,” one of the men allegedly told him, according to the Herald, adding that the inmate wasn’t the only one to find it suspicious.

“A corrections officer at the detention facility called the FBI’s National Threat Operations Center that same night, a Friday, at 6:28 p.m. to report that he had ‘never seen this amount of bags of shredded documents coming out to be put in the dumpster at the rear gate of MCC.’”

“The Epstein cover up continues,” commented the X account for the Seneca Project, under Brown’s X post.

“Bill freaking Barr. ... These people are monsters. Corrupt, lying monsters,” posted another critic.

“And who was President?” demanded another, pointing out that the shredding was underway during President Donald Trump’s first term.

Another X critic raged that “These mother—— were covering up while the FBI was in the building,” while still another asked “Anybody surprised?”

According to the Herald, a back gate corrections officer at the prison “was also troubled” by what he witnessed as the inmate brought down “bales” of shredded paper, according to a memo he wrote to investigators three days later, on Monday, Aug. 19.

“I believe that this conduct may be inappropriate for [an] investigative team to be shredding paperwork related to the investigation and you may want to investigate why BOP employees are destroying records,” the correctional officer wrote on Aug. 19 around 11 a.m.

“Can we take a look at the Dumpster ASAP to see if the paper is still there? Possible they didn’t dump it yet,” replied one of the federal agents whose name is redacted in the memo.

There's a reason 200,000 people subscribe to AlterNet.

You can get the news before it breaks just by subscribing, plus you learn something new every day.

SUBMIT

You may opt out any time. By signing up for this newsletter, you agree to the Terms and Conditions and Privacy Policy.

Report typos and corrections to: feedback@alternet.org.

Do you feel Democrats can regain control of Congress in 2026?

VOTE NOW

Read Comments - Join the Discussion

A bungling bully
who burned bridges
now needs friends

Trump's son-in-law
has a $5 billion
problem

MOST POPULAR

1

The Supreme Court's final
'reckoning' may be right
around the corner: legal experts

2

DOJ tried to hide this Epstein document about Trump — here's what it reveals: Rick Wilson

3

Katie Couric tears down Melania movie with single word

4

Trump is asking advisors how to get his birthday declared a national US holiday

5

A fiercely independent red state just said 'no' to Trump

6

NYT accuses Trump of 'hiding the truth'

7

Red state goes to war with its largest city

8

'Hate, hate, hate': Data guru has bad news for Trump

9

'Out of the closet': Former Republican has a theory about white Christian nationalism

10

White House 'completely freaked out' by colliding foreign threats

Trending Topics

vicenany • merama

Trump • Drudge Report • Paul

Krugman • Lindsey

Graham • Lincoln Project • Al

Franken Bill Maher • People Of

Praise • Ivanka Trump • Eric

Trump

MOST POPULAR

1

The Supreme Court's final 'reckoning' may be right around the corner: legal experts

2

NYT accuses Trump of 'hiding the truth'

3

A fiercely independent red state just said 'no' to Trump

4

Trump's erratic outbursts expose a significant political vulnerability

5

Longtime Republican laments the GOP collapse into the 'gutter'

6

Trump torn apart for putting 'team of bozos' in charge

the truth

8

A bungling bully who burned bridges
now needs friends

9

Trump weaponizes everyone's medical secrets — except his own

10

Republicans are sabotaging themselves to humor Trump's grievances: analysis

Get the latest stories. Sign up for AlterNet's free daily newsletter.

SUBMIT

You may opt out any time. By signing up for this newsletter, you agree to the Terms and Conditions and Privacy Policy.

Contact

Advertise with AlterNet

Privacy Policy

Writer Guidelines

Press Information

About AlterNet

Meet the AlterNet Staff

Debug Logs

@2026 - AlterNet Media Inc. All Rights Reserved. - "Poynter" fonts provided by fontsempire.com.